LIST OF EXCEPTIONS

Filed to Ruling of Court in the Case of Mrs. Eddy.

TO STATE SUPREME COURT

Believed That the Case Eventually Will Go There on the Exceptions That Have Been Filed—Appointment of Alienists Attacked.

Concord, N. H., July 12.—A lengthy list of exceptions to the rulings of Judge Chamberlain of the superior court in the suit for accounting of the property of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Christian Science leader, was filed with the clerk of the superior court here by Street & Hollis attorneys for Mrs. Eddy and for Henry M. Baker, Archibald McLellan and Josiah E. Fernald, the three trustees named by Mrs. Eddy to care for her property. It is expected that eventually the case will go to the supreme court of New Hampshire on these exceptions. The exceptions in part are as follows:

In the appointment as co-master with Edgar Aldrich of Dr. George F. Jelly of Boston and Dr. G. Alden Blumer of Providence, alienists, because they are not residents of the state of New Hampshire and their appointment is contrary to law because they are authorized and expected to render a decision not predicated wholly upon the evidence submitted to them by the parties, but based in part upon their technical knowledge as expert alienists; because they are not legally competent to act either as masters or referees in the case.

To the denial by the court of Mrs. Eddy's motion filed June 1, 1907, that the court sitting as chancellor in equity should determine relative to her property interests and the proceedings against her.

STORY OF DEBAUCHMENT.

San Francisco, July 12.—Dr. Charles Buxton, the temporary mayor of San Francisco, on the witness stand in the Glass trial told the story of his debauchment by Theodore V. Halsey the indicted agent of the Pacific States Telephone company, who he testified paid him $5,000 "mostly in $100 bills" for having voted and used his influence as a supervisor against the granting of a rival franchise to the Home Telephone company. The first and only important question asked of Dr. Buxton in cross-examination before he was excused brought out the answer that the supervisory caucus at which a majority of the eighteen supervisors decided to abandon the Pacific States Telephone company—by whom according to their confessions to the grand jury they had been bribed—and vote a franchise to the Home company, was held in the office of Mayor Schmitz on the Sunday evening preceding Feb. 26, 1906.

SEVEN ITALIANS KILLED.

Hazleton, Pa., July 12.—Seven mine workers, all Italians, were killed in an abandoned slope of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company at Honeybrook by deadly white damp. Three others are missing, but official confirmation as to whether they are in the mine cannot be secured.

Three Robbers Hanged.

St. Petersburg, July 12.—Three of the participants in the pawnshop robbery in this city of June 12 after trial by courtmartial were hanged here. The case of the fourth robber is to be investigated a second time.

FROM SALVATION ARMY.

Two Massachusetts Men Accused of Trying to Extort Money.

Boston, July 12.—What the government officials claim was a plan to extort $30,000 from the Salvation Army was made public when Solomon Robitcheck of Lowell, a dealer in secondhand clothing, and Bennett T. Silverblatt, an attorney, were brought before United States Commissioner Hays and held in bonds of $1,000 each on the charge of using the mails in an attempt to defraud.

According to the officials connected with the office of the United States district attorney, Robitcheck either wrote or secured possession of a poem casting grave reflections on the motives and practices of the members of the Salvation Army. It is alleged that a copy of the verse was sent to General William Booth, commander of the army, and was addressed to Salvation Army headquarters in New York. General Booth being in London the letter was opened by Ransom Caghill, treasurer of the army. Enclosed with the verse was a letter in which, it is alleged, the threat was made to publish the verses and sell them at 5 cents a copy unless the army paid $30,000 to the sender, Robitcheck. Silverblatt, according to the contention of the government, acted as Robitcheck's attorney in the alleged negotiations.

RIVERS OF BLAZING OIL.

Threatened the Village of Bridgeport Ill., With Destruction.

Bridgeport, Ill., July 12.—After working all day damming the streets in which ran rivers of blazing oil from the exploding tanks of an oil refinery west of this village, the citizens of Bridgeport managed to save their homes. Dikes were made to cut off the flames from the residences and the damage was confined to the refinery and its vicinity. The loss will total $150,000. No lives were lost.

Two large oil tanks, each containing 37,000 barrels of oil, were struck by lightning and ignited. An instant later the tanks exploded, sending streams of flaming oil fully 500 feet into the air. This oil ignited other tanks, fifteen smaller ones, each with a capacity of 250 barrels. A small part between the refinery and the town saved the village.

EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

Kills One Man and Injures Five Others, Two Seriously.

Birmingham, Ala., July 12.—One man was instantly killed and five were injured, two seriously, as the result of an explosion in the mine of the Palace Coal and Coke company fifteen miles northwest of Birmingham. The dead man is C. T. Chadwick.

The explosion is thought to have been caused by the ignition of fire damp from one of the miner's lamps. The explosion was so powerful that it is regarded as miraculous that any of the eighty-five men in the mine at the time escaped.

TORNADO IN INDIANA.

Vincennes, Ind., July 12.—Thomas Judson, engineer; Newton Chambers, fireman, and Louis Freeman, a cashier, were buried under the walls of the boilerhouse of the Freeman coal mine at Bicknell, Knox county, which was wrecked by a tornado. The powderhouse at the mines and the blacksmith shop were demolished. Mrs. J. M. Bicknell and three children were rendered unconscious when the roof fell in.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Chinese Restaurant Keeper at Omaha Victim of Foul Play.

Omaha, July 12.—Robbers so gashed and pounded Han Pak, a Chinese restaurant keeper, that he died a few hours later. His strong box was looted of $500 cash. An iceman found Pak in a pool of blood in the restaurant kitchen. Pak was removed to a hospital, where he died two hours later. A bloody meat cleaver and a pick handle gave evidence of a terrible struggle, during which the Chinaman received a score of deep wounds, several on his head.

BOYCOTT ON RAILROAD.

Deadwood Firemen Will Not Protect Railroad's Property.

Deadwood, S. D., July 12.—Because the Northwestern railroad refused to make an excursion rate of 70 cents for the Volunteer Firemen's picnic, the firemen have declared a boycott on railroad property. At a meeting they voted to refuse to protect railroad property or to render any assistance in case of fire. The railroad is given until July 25 to make the concession of a 70-cent rate.

All Dear to Him.

Wife.—The doctor orders me to the mineral baths at Carlsbad, and you refuse me the means to go. That shows how little you value me. Husband.—On the contrary, I do not wish to lose a pound of you.—Fliegende Blätter.

JAP SPY IS ARRESTED

GIVES OUT NO INFORMATION

Major Getchell Declines to Discuss the Subject—Two Distinguished Japanese Say There Are No Unfriendly Issues Between Japan and America.

San Diego, Cal., July 12.—A report is in circulation here that a Japanese had been arrested at Fort Rosecrans in the act of making drawings of the fort. The arrest, it is said, was made two evenings ago, but where the Japanese now is and who he is not publicly known. Major Getchell will give no information.

No Report to War Department.

Washington, July 12.—It was stated at the war department that no report had been received there regarding the arrest of a Japanese at Fort Rosecrans, near San Diego, while sketching fortifications.

AOKI AND YAMAMOTO.

Declare That There Is No Danger of War.

New York, July 12.—Two distinguished Japanese took occasion to declare in no uncertain terms that there were no unfriendly issues between the United States and Japan and to deny the importance attributed by some to trivial incidents.

The champions of peace and friendship between the two countries were Admiral Baron Yamamoto, a guest of the city, and Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who came over from Washington to attend the reception and luncheon given by the Japan society of America in honor of Admiral Yamamoto.

In the course of a formal statement Ambassador Aoki said:

"There exists between the two governments no difference or ill-feeling whatever. There is not the slightest cause for anxiety in the American-Japanese relations and if there is any anxiety it is not because of the actual existence of any difficulty between the two countries, but because of the demagogic influence of some unwarranted press talk that often leads to drive even the calmest temper of the public into a whirl of tempestuous rage."

Speaking at the luncheon at the Hotel Astor, Admiral Yamamoto said among other things:

"Our interests, commercial and otherwise, are so intimately interwoven and the cordial relations between us of fifty years standing are of so firm a nature that I can confidently affirm that they will never be destroyed by mere trifling incidents."

"Men are essentially prone to be controlled by sentiments and it is the duty of those in leading positions to see that they are not led astray."

Expressions of international good will were also made at the luncheon by Rear Admiral Coghlan and Rear Admiral Evans, commander of the Atlantic fleet. Admiral Evans said that when the newspapers of this country stopped making war between Japan and the United States the people would come to their senses and a better feeling would exist all around.

During the day the Japanese admiral and his retinue visited the navyyard. They spent some time inspecting the different buildings and Rear Admiral Evans' flagship, the Connecticut.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR WAR.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 12.—Count Kalosamo of Tokyo, Japan, who stopped over here between trains on his way for San Francisco, whence he will sail for Yokohama by the first steamer, granted the Associated Press an interview in which he said:

"If one will consider for a few seconds he will see that the last thing Japan wants just now is a war with the United States. Japan has not yet recovered from the effects of the Russian war. We have not money enough to carry on a prolonged struggle in the first place and secondly, but more important, we have all the territory we can handle. We have Korea on our hands and the world knows something of how hard that little kingdom is to bring into shape. Then comes Formosa, which is practically a savage country."

"If this be not enough we have the vast territory of Manchuria to rehabilitate. Conditions there after the war were chaotic and it will be years before the country can be brought to anything like order."

Count Kalosamo was asked what he thought of the assembling of the great fleet of the United States warships in the Pacific.

"It is a move that could have been looked for on the part of the United States at any time," he replied. "I

Our White Waists

Perhaps you need another white waist or two to complete the summer with. It will afford you pleasure to select from our lines if such be the case. There are two things we are very particular about in selecting these garments. The waists that we show must not be "fussy." We believe that you prefer a waist that is neatly made to one that is elaborately trimmed with a cheaper trimming. For this reason you'll find the waists neatly made. Then you want a waist to be economically priced. This is a strong characteristic of our waists. They cost you little; in other words they are popular priced garments.

You will find most courteous salespeople ready to show you these garments at any time.

SALUTE TO A GOVERNOR.

Results in One Soldier Being Killed and Two Others Burned.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 12.—One man killed and two severely burned marred a reception to Governor Mead and staff at Fort Worden.

As a governor's salute of seventeen guns was fired from a battery, one gun became overheated and as the charge was driven home it exploded. Private Tobassen, Sixty-second company, received the full force of the charge, which blew off one arm and badly mangled his head.

Hot in Washington.

Washington, July 12.—Washington sweltered Thursday and upwards of half a dozen heat prostrations were reported. The mercury in the downtown thermometers, starting at 83 degrees at 8 a. m., ascended steadily until 4 p. m., when it reached the 100 mark in the shade. The official record at the weather bureau at 4 o'clock was 92.

Earthquake in Iowa.

Burlington, Ia., July 12.—Citizens of this city declare that they felt three distinct shocks of earthquake about 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

Ice Plant Burned Down.

Las Vegas, N. M., July 12.—The Armour Packing company's $125,000 ice plant, with 700 tons of ice, has been totally destroyed by fire.

FINE RHODES SCHOLAR

W. Crittenden of California First to Finish With High Record.

SAYS AMERICANS WOKE UP.

Did Not Take English University at Oxford Seriously at First, but Knows Better Now—Warmly Praises Englishmen, Who He Says Did Much to Put Rhodes Men at Their Ease.

Rhodes scholars from the wild and woolly western hemisphere may have sent chills up and down the spine of old Oxford by perforating window panes with bullets from 44 caliber six-shooters, and stories may have come across the sea as to the rather poor rank of the American students, but California, just the same, is pretty proud of a young fellow named William Crittenden, who recently got back from his course as a beneficiary of the great foundation made by Cecil Rhodes, says a Berkeley (Cal.) special dispatch to the New York Times.

Crittenden was the first Rhodes scholar to reach Oxford. He was also the first to get away—at least the first to get away with a clean record for the full course. As a matter of fact, Crittenden finished up his three years' work in two years and spent the extra year seeing things in odd corners of the continent and in taking a special course in law.

Now, about everybody in the Berkeley section of California knows Crittenden. In fact, he is notorious. To begin with, he was one of the brightest pupils in a school hereabouts. As one result of his youthful attainments, he was picked out by a man who runs a chain of newspapers in America to make a trip around the world and tell all about it in every edition from the Connecticut "bulldog" to the 11 p. m. extras. He did the job very conscientiously.

When he got back and went into the University of California everybody seemed to know all about Crittenden, and the hazing that he got in his freshman year would put West Point in the shade and cover it up with leaves. Pretty much all his first term was spent in telling inquisitive upper class men in compulsory lectures just how he and the newspaper chain had done it. Just the same, he took it all in the proper spirit and came to be one of the most popular men in college. He was president of the junior class at Berkeley when he was picked to go to Oxford.

From what can be learned unofficially about Crittenden's stay at Oxford he seems to have been the best of the American students as far as rank goes at least. Anyway, California will claim that honor until the returns come in.

There was a lot of talk awhile ago about the poor scholarship of the American Rhodes men. Crittenden says that they are all doing very well. Furthermore, he believes that the Rhodes plan is a great one and will be of lasting benefit. "The first year," he says, "the Americans did not take things seriously enough. The life was so free and easy that the Americans did not seem to realize that there was any work to do. The second year, however, the men got down to real work, and now they have a higher regard for the English system of education than they had at first."

For the English students whom he met at Oxford, Crittenden has only warm praise. "I do not think," he says, "that the people of this country appreciate the Englishman. The English are about as honest and sincere and straightforward fellows as you can meet anywhere. They are not at all effusive; they have a sort of dignity and reserve about them, to be sure, but once you get to know them they certainly are fine friends. They stick by one another in splendid fashion."

"They received us Rhodes scholars with a great deal more courtesy even than they show one another. They knew we were strangers and tried to do everything they could to put us at our ease. They seemed to see that if the Rhodes scholarship scheme was to succeed they would have to give us an opportunity to see the English home and the English life. Taking it for granted that we were decent sort of men, they invited us to join the different societies and asked us to visit their homes. I remember that one man invited us to shoot deer in his private park. That of course was rather tame sport for a Californian, but one couldn't help appreciating the spirit in which the Englishman gave the invitation."

Crittenden while traveling in Asia Minor a short time ago had an adventure with a gang of bandits. Now he is prepared to settle down to law practice or at least to the further study of that profession, with the rich field that San Francisco now affords as an inducement to remain in that part of the country.

Spring Water Cure For Rum Thirst. Mingo Junction village council has commercialized its natural "jag" cure, says a Steubenville (O.) special to the Washington Post. The waters of Potter spring after running free for more than a century and having cured the rum thirst of all sorts and conditions of men will now be bottled and sold in "dry" towns. For more than a century the water of Potter spring has been credited with possessing qualities which destroy the taste for liquor. It is said that the power of the water to eliminate the taste for the firewater was first discovered by Logan, a famous chief of the Mingo Indians.

Confusion at These Dinners.

In his dining room Sir Joshua Reynolds constantly entertained all the best known men of his time, including Dr. Johnson, Goldsmith, Garrick, Burke, Sterne, Hogarth, Wilkes, Allan Ramsay and a score of others, who formed the brilliant literary club of which the great painter was the founder. There doubtless, in the familiar lines of the author of "Retaliation,"

When they talked of their Raphaels, Correggios and stuff, He shifted his trumpet and only took snuff.

At these dinner parties, according to Malone, though the wine and the dishes were of the best, there seemed to be a tacit agreement that mind should predominate over body. The table, we are told, though set only for seven or eight, often had to accommodate double that number. There was usually a deficiency of knives, forks and glasses, and the guests had to bawl for more supplies, while the host calmly left every one to shift for himself, though he lost not a word, if he could help it, of the conversation.—London Spectator.

Gulf Stream Fruit.

The superiority of certain English fruits has its origin in a cause little suspected. It is the blessed gulf stream which does it. Foreign growers are every bit as acute as the English, it may be, but they have not the right atmosphere. The gulf stream imparts a beneficent humidity to our atmosphere which results in our fruit having the thinnest and finest skins of any in the world. The English strawberry is without equal for flavor. The English grape, though it may not have the fine flavor of the Spanish, has the best skin. The French tomato is as thick skinned as the English field grown. The English apple eclipses its rivals because of its thin skin. Every fruit according to its climate. Grown in a different atmosphere, the English apple would shrivel in a day; here, helped by the moisture from the gulf stream, it ripens within the thinnest of jackets and is as much superior to the foreign or colonial apple as a peach is superior to a parsnip.—St. James' Gazette.

Hamburg, July 11.—The yacht race from Helgoland to Ostend was attended by a fatal accident. The German schooner yacht Hamburg belonging to the Nord Deutscher regatta verein was totally wrecked by a terrible storm.

We all have met people who are continually kicking. Life seems a terrible thing to them. They seldom smile. Something dreadful is going to happen, nothing is ever just right, and they worry and fret and complain from morning till night.

MR. J. R. SMOCK.

Their trouble seems to be just a bad disposition but this is seldom so. In most cases there is one of two things the matter with them; either their nerves or their digestion is responsible. Both come from the same thing—stomach trouble. A man or woman whose nerves are tied in knots is bound to be mighty poor company. The same thing is true if what they eat don't digest properly. No wonder they grumble, I don't blame them. I have seen Cooper's New Discovery change the whole disposition of people in a month's time simply by getting their stomach in shape again. Even the expression on their faces was altogether different. The worried, tired, fretful look changed to a peaceful happy expression, and the lines of care disappeared altogether. Many people tell me about this in letters. They seem to think it a miracle. It is! It's just the stomach working again.

Here's a case of this kind: "I suffered with my stomach for thirteen years. Nothing I ate seemed to digest. I also had chronic constipation, and was tired, dull, irritable and despondent all the time. I found it difficult to attend to my duties as traction agent at this place." "Six different doctors treated me and all gave different opinions." "I began taking Cooper's New Discovery, and to my surprise it helped me from the first. I have gained ten pounds in three weeks and am feeling fine. My work now is a pleasure, where before it was drudgery." J. R. Smock, Cicero, Indiana.

Was in Poor Health for Years

Ira W. Y. M. C. A. TRAINING SCHOOL

J. C. Manville Writes Interestingly of Summer Encampment of the Y.
M. C. A. Training School

THE DISPATCH has received a letter from J. C. Manville, the local secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who is attending the summer encampment of the Institute and Training school of Young Men's Christian Associations at Lake Geneva, Wis. The encampment is located at Williams Bay. After commenting on the beauty of the place Mr. Manville says:

The summer term of the training school as well as the railroad conference and the discussion clubs have started off at a rapid pace. There are at least 115 secretaries and physical directors of the association enrolled here in the training school besides 35 railroad secretaries. Men are here from all over the United States and one from England. There are men from California, Texas, Alabama and Florida on the south and Minnesota, Canada, Idaho, Pennsylvania and Connecticut on the north.

The railroad conference is an exceedingly valuable one and the men are comparing notes and gaining information that is going to be of much consequence to them upon returning to their respective fields. Very encouraging reports are brought from all points and many new lines of work are being planned.

EPWORTH CADETS ORGANIZED

A Company Has Been Organized by Capt. Tracy in Connection With
Epworth League Work

A unique organization in connection with church work made its first start Thursday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church, when Capt. W. S. Tracy formed the Brainerd Epworth Cadets, and which has had its first drill on the lawn of the church. The aim of the organization is to gather together the boys of the city from 10 years upward and thoroughly train them in military tactics, and develop the physical side of the boy. Both Capt. Tracy and Rev. Davis believe drilling to be one of the best forms of physical development possible, and incidentally a system of physical training that fosters patriotism. The company will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings of each week at 7 o'clock and the drills will last one hour. A cadet rifle and drum corp will ultimately be formed in connection with it. Any boys who wish to become a member of the organization are requested to make personal application to Capt. Tracy or Rev. Davis. That the large number of boys present were enthusiastic over the Epworth Cadet movement, may be inferred from the reply given to a stranger who halted his buggy and asked, "For what reason are you drilling?" when instantly the reply from the company was, "Getting ready to lick the Japs."

G. B. Burhans testifies after 4 years

G. B. Burhans, of Castle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." CHURCH BASE BALL LEAGUE

The outcome of the game between the Catholic and the Congregational teams last night was a foregone conclusion when Jim Alderman refused to go in the box for the latter team. An occurrence in the first inning caused the first ill feeling of the series of games. At the commencement of the game it was discovered that there was no catcher's mitt in the field. Parker for the Congs went behind the bat with a baseman's glove and Boyle and Murphy took both second and third bases on passed balls without a protest, both scoring. In the second half of the inning Wilson refused to try to hold the balls without a big mitt and Murphy made a kick which was sustained by the umpire on permitting the Congs to run on passed balls, depriving them of at least two scores. Many friends of the Congs team urged Manager Parker to take his team from the field rather than submit to such unfair rulings but he refused to "play the baby" as he expressed it. C. Ousdahl, Olson and Dick pitched good ball and while they pitched good ball were outclassed by the semi-professionals in the other team. The final score was 14 to 4 in favor of the Catholics. By innings it was:

Catholics 2 4 0 6 2—14

Cong 2 0 0 2 0—4

Cuyler Adams Begins Action Against
W. M. Hubbard to Compel Transfers of Iron Lands

An action has been commenced in the district court of Crow Wing county by Wm. C. White and A. D. Polk, as attorneys for Cuyler Adams to enforce the provisions of a contract and option given by one W. M. Hubbard to Adams and Wm. C. White, who subsequently assigned his interest to Adams, agreeing to convey lots 6, 7 and 8, in 25-47-29 containing 115.10 acres for the sum of $5,000 of which $2,000 was to be cash and the balance $1,000 per year for three years. Hubbard now refuses to convey the land according to contract and suit is brought to compel him to do so. This is one of the most important pieces of litigation yet growing out of the increase of values on the Cuyuna range.

CAR SHORTAGE IS PREDICTED

Traffic Conditions of Last Fall Seem
Due to be Repeated This Year is the Prediction

St. Paul Dispatch—Another car and equipment shortage is imminent next fall. Cars are already beginning to get scarce, and there has not been nearly the amount of double tracking and extension work completed which was finished last year at this time.

Traffic men will not admit that such a shortage is a possibility. Neither will they deny it. One traffic man when seen would only say, "We will do everything possible to ward off such disastrous conditions as were felt last year, but when the business becomes beyond our depth there is bound to be serious trouble."

At the beginning of the year all of the Northwestern lines made great preparations for a record-breaking season of construction. Plans were made on nearly all the roads for double tracking every possible mile of track which came within the congested districts last year, thus increasing the capacity of the road four-fold. After the legislature went into session, all work was stopped and only a small proportion of it has been pushed. The companies are endeavoring to spend as little money as possible until they can ascertain just where they stand under the new laws.

Milwaukee, July 11.—Educational legislation in various states with relation to Catholic interests was treated in papers read by several of the delegates to the Catholic Educational association convention's general meeting. Rev. Joseph Smith of New York prepared a paper which was read by Secretary Howard telling of the educational legislation in his state; Rev. Hiereman of Ohio told of the methods which obtained in that state; and Michael E. Girtens and Rev. P. C. Yorker of Illinois and California, respectively, spoke for their states.

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES

William D. Haywood on the Witness Stand.

DENIES THE ALLEGATIONS

Accused Man's Testimony Characterized by Denials of Charges of the Prosecution—Story of His Early Hardships Told in Court.

Boise, Ida., July 12.—William D. Haywood took oath Thursday as a witness in his own defense and in a lengthy narrative of his life and his work as a leader of his fellow miners denied guilt of the murder of Frank Steunenberg and the manifold crimes charged against him by Harry Orchard. Haywood was pale and trembled with nervousness when he left the table of his counsel and walked around to the witness stand. When he began to respond to Clarence Darrow's questions his voice was low and somewhat uncertain, but within ten minutes he had regained his composure and for the rest of the day he was master of his feelings. As he told of his boyhood that began with toll at the age of nine and gave the history of his family, his invalid wife, who sat just to the left of the witness stand, began sobbing. Her mother-in-law and her nurse soon comforted her, however, and during the rest of the forenoon she remained quiet.

Haywood's testimony was chiefly characterized with positive denials of allegations made against him by the prosecution. He denied that he met Orchard until some time after the Vindicator explosion, denied that he sent Orchard back to Cripple Creek to blow up the Independence station, denied participation in the Lyte Gregory murder and denied suggesting or discussing the Steunenberg murder.

Never Gave Orchard Any Money. He swore that he never gave Orchard any money at any time or place for any purpose. He declared that he never made a threat against Steunenberg, whom he said he regarded only as he did any politician who is being swayed by capitalistic influence. He told of a number of occasions when he met Orchard in Denver in the ordinary course of his relations with the federation and he said he saw Orchard for the last time in August, 1905, when Orchard told him he was going to Alaska and Haywood said he chided Orchard for deserting his wife at Cripple Creek. The direct examination had not reached the connection of Jack Simpkins and the action of the federation after Steunenberg was murdered when adjournment interrupted it.

The state completed the cross-examination of Charles H. Moyer at noon and in dealing with his testimony directed its strongest attack against the circumstances under which the federation at the suggestion of Jack Simpkins came to the relief of Orchard when he was arrested for killing Steunenberg. Senator Borah, who conducted the examination, emphasized the connection of Jack Simpkins and the federation and the fact that the federation without inquiry as to the guilt or innocence of Orchard gave $1,500 from its treasury to provide for his defense. He also developed the fact that the federation is providing for the defense of Steve Adams, who is charged with killing two claim jumpers at the instigation of Jack Simpkins. Moyer denied knowing anything about the $1,500 that Haywood sent to Jack Simpkins a few days before Steunenberg was assassinated and which is traced to Orchard by an unsigned note.

APPLICATION IS DENIED.

Court Refuses to Prevent Iowa Rate Law Going Into Effect.

Des Moines, Ia., July 12.—Judge McPherson of the federal court denied the application of the two stockholders of the Iowa Central and the Minneapolis and St. Louis for a restraining order against the directors of these roads to prevent them from putting into effect the 2-cent passenger rate passed by the Iowa legislature, taking effect July 4. The judge based his action upon the ground that no injury to the roads was shown; that the complaint that the new rate would cut down dividends was not proved; that increased passenger travel might increase receipts, and that under rule 94 of the supreme court the case was not properly brought, as no charges of bad faith on the part of the directors was alleged.

One Farmer's Advantages.

Traveling men whose business carries them over the traction line between Indianapolis and Columbus, Ind., have come to the conclusion that Glatton Perry, a farmer north of Columbus, has more advantages than any city resident, says a Columbus special to the Indianapolis News. A traveling man made this remark recently when he saw a motorman throw off a copy of an Indianapolis paper in front of Mr. Perry's home. Mr. Perry gets his paper thirty minutes before the same edition is delivered to subscribers in Columbus. He has a waterworks at his home, a gas lighting plant and telephones and street cars pass by his door every thirty minutes. He has rural free delivery, and a church is located within a stone's throw of the house. A cemetery is so near that in case of a funeral a hearse would be unnecessary.

IN STANDARD STYLE.

Educators Vote to Resume Spelling of Three Words.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 12.—The National council of the National Educational association took action authorizing the appointment of a committee of five with William T. Harris of Washington, D. C., as its chairman, to work for an international association of educational workers to promote education and consider the problems confronting it. The council also appropriated money for the use of committees investigating the shortage of teachers and the establishment of a national federal university at Washington, D. C., and ascertaining the best way of teaching morals in the public schools. The election of new officers of the council, headed by Joseph Swain, president of Swarthmore college, Swarthmore, Pa., was completed.

The board of directors voted to resume the spelling of the words "through, though and thorough" in the standard style. It also re-elected R. B. Brown, president of Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., a member of the board of trustees and W. T. Harris of Washington, D. C., a member of the executive committee; created a new department for the benefit of aiding women's organizations of the country that desired affiliation with the association; voted for Cleveland as the place for the holding the next convention in 1908 and took favorable action on the national university and other projects favored by the executive committee.

SECRETARY TAFT'S PLANS

For Reorganization of Administrative Methods of Canal Commission.

Washington, July 12.—Secretary Taft's plans for the reorganization of the administrative methods of the Isthmian canal commission as approved by President Roosevelt have been made public. They take the form of three executive orders. Briefly, they provide for the transfer to the chief of engineers of the army the supervision of the purchase of material and supplies; the maintenance of offices within the United States by the commission for the convenient execution of its business; the appointments in the United States of the commission's employees to be made by the general purchasing officer under civil service rules and the abolishment after Aug. 15 of the provision for general auditors and local auditors and the appointment for the commission upon the Isthmus of an examiner of accounts and in Washington an assistant examiner of accounts. These duties are specifically indicated, having in view a thorough inspection and verification of accounts of the various officers, a periodical accounting of the cash in the hands of disbursing officers and examination of the books of the commission kept by the disbursing officer.

COMPETITION IS CLOSE.

Five Cities Want Next Convention of Catholic Educational Association.

Milwaukee, July 12.—Close competition has developed in the convention of the Catholic Educational Association of America between St. Paul, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati and Buffalo for the entertainment of the next convention of that body. It has been decided not to settle the question at this gathering, but to postpone the selection of a convention site until the meeting of the executive board in Washington two weeks hence.

During Thursday's session a message bringing the pope's blessing to the organization was received and read and officers were elected. Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore was elected honorary president by a unanimous vote of the delegates. Other officers elected are as follows:

President general, Rt. Rev. D. J. O'Connell, D. D., Washington; vice president general, Very Rev. James A. Burns, Washington; secretary general, Rev. F. W. Howard, Columbus, O.; treasurer general, Rev. Francis T. Moran, Cleveland.

EVASD THE AUTHORITIES.

Fourteen Japs at Large Somewhere in the United States.

Washington July 12.—Fourteen Japanese laborers who under the labor laws were not permitted to land in this country, evaded the authorities in Philadelphia and are at large somewhere in the United States. The men arrived in Philadelphia on the ship Erskine M. Phelps, sugar laden from Hawaii, on May 25. They were part of the crew of the vessel and were paid off in Philadelphia. In accordance with the law and regulations, they were taken before the immigration authorities by the captain of the ship. They could not be landed, but as they indicated an intention to re-ship on another vessel, thus continuing their occupation as seamen, the immigration officers had no control over them. An inquiry into the matter was made, developing the fact that the fourteen Japanese disappeared into the country.

LEAPS THROUGH WINDOW.

Oregon Thief Jumps From a Rapidly Moving Train.

Denver, July 12.—John T. Thompson, a prisoner in custody of Detective Joseph Jay of the Portland, Ore., police department, leaped from a car window while the train was running at a speed of forty miles an hour near this city and escaped. Thompson is wanted at Portland to answer a charge of stealing $3,000 and was captured in London, Eng., after a chase around the world.

LONDON'S EAST SIDE.

Fearful Picture of Poverty and Dissipation.

A SATURDAY NIGHT SCENE.

The Awful Spectacle That a Bitterly Cold Evening in Winter Disclosed to the Wayfarer in the Streets—The Hucksters and Their Customers.

Let me show you something which is more terrible than tragedy and more hideous than vice. It is a close wedged procession of thousands of happy but shabby men and women and children passing at a crawl between shop windows and costermongers' barrows on a Saturday night in winter in south-east London. The wind from the Thames blows hither and thither the dunes and naphtha lamps and makes them tug and hiss at the greasy burners. It is bitterly cold. Women draw their gray shawls closer over their heads; men turn up their coat collars, hump their shoulders and thrust their hands deeper in their pockets, and the blue faced children, squeezed between the legs of the crawling multitude, shiver and snuffle as they creep so slowly forward with chattering teeth and purple lips, which twitch and shudder, half from cold and half from hunger.

Look at some of the faces. The women have their hair dragged back from their foreheads. The eyes are hardly visible. The noses are short and broad. The blubber lips reach across their swollen faces. The men have shifty eyes. Their underjaws project. There is nothing in their faces which suggests dignity or kindness. On all the faces you read satisfaction and content. Even the starving children peep about with excitement.

On the top rail of a stall, stuck upon hooks and just high enough to grin above the multitude, are the heads of two sucking pigs. The eyes are half open and wear a glassy smile. Round the rim of the ears and at the edge of the open grinning lips is a line of blood. They seem to hang there like the presiding deities of the market, the gods of this sordid festival.

Butchers stand before their open windows, calling loudly and briskly for customers and reaching down joints of meat from steel hooks, which they fling to a man inside to be weighed. Children, bareheaded and in rags, thrust themselves among the crowd, offering beet roots on pieces of dirty newspaper. The street is filled with cries. There is a smell of fish and fusty garments. Into our faces as we go forward foul, fat women with hoarse voices shove handfuls of animal matter—things all bloody and dreadful—and tell us that the cost is only two pence. At another barrow an old woman and her three daughters are selling for pennies, twopences, threepences and fourpences the loathsome oddments from their rag shop. Blouses, stays, petticoats, nightdresses, trousers, waistcoats and caps—all of them so sodden and musty that we doubt if they would burn—are snatched up from the wide stall, flourished in the light of the naphtha lamps and flung across to the highest bidder for a few coppers.

And, while this marketing is going on and while the air is filled with the hoarse shouts of the hucksters, out from the public houses, like bees dislodged from a swarm, drop men and women, many of them carrying babies in their arms, and slouch away into the darkness of some neighboring court. The gin shops are crammed—crammed with men, women and children. The more careful housewives are fingering bits of meat scarce fit for dogs and haunting the stalls till they have collected enough for Sunday's dinner, but when this is done they, too, fight their way into the gin shops and drink till closing time. In and out of the pawnbrokers' shops pass the mothers who wish to rescue their best clothes for the Sunday. The money lenders' doors are never still. And the crowd in the street grows denser and noisier. The smell of it fills the soul with nausea.

A young man, with a child or two in his arms, comes out of a public house. His wife and a girl friend follow after him, mocking him for going home so early. The wife carries a baby of three or four months in her arms. In the middle of the road the girls begin to dance and sing. The husband turns round and laughs. The child in his arms, with dazed eyes, watches her mother singing and dancing. The dirty linen cap on the baby's head slips off as the mother whirls about, and we see the poor little bald head going round and round in the glare of the naphtha. How that tiny brain must swim! How it must wonder at the shrill laughter of its swaying mother! The baby is no larger than a skinned rabbit. Round and round, round and round, to the shrieking tune of "Sally, Sally, Was in the Ballet," while the husband stands grinning and the girl friend suddenly reels and goes down behind a barrow, chuckling and cursing.—Detroit Notes.

"To the Lamppost."

"To the lamppost" is a mistranslation of "a la lanterne." There was no lamppost. The lamp was hung over the middle of the street, in the center of a cord, which passed over pulleys at the sides of the street. The lamp was let down, the person to be hanged was substituted for it, and the ends of the cord pulled.—London Notes and Queries.

Knowledge and timber shouldn't be much used till they are seasoned.—Holmes.

ST. PAUL IS SELECTED.

Next Christian Endeavor Convention Will Be Held There.

Seattle, Wash., July 12.—After a debate lasting several hours, at which the separate merits of three cities as the place for holding the next convention were heard, the board of trustees of the United Society of Christian Endeavor decided that the city to receive this honor should be St. Paul, Minn.

Thursday was the first real day of the work of the convention, beginning in the early morning with prayer meetings at every church in the city and ending with services in several churches at night.

All day long meetings of delegates from every state in the Union were held for the discussion of topics pertinent to the society and many prominent men delivered addresses. Among those who spoke were:

Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, president of the United society; William Shaw of Boston, general secretary of the society; Amos R. Wells of Boston, managing editor of the Christian Endeavor World; Hiram N. Lathrop of Boston, general treasurer of the society.

CARS IN BAD SHAPE.

South Bend, Ind., July 12.—Sixty cars of the Glidden tour party arrived at South Bend before 6 o'clock Thursday evening and others straggled in later. The pilot arrived at 1:45 o'clock and contestant No. 4 driven by H. A. Grant, Westcher, arrived at 3:33 o'clock. The other cars are in bad shape from rain and mud. T. G. Clark, Chicago, while attempting to steer car No. 6 clear of several women in a buggy, upset. Clark was severely injured. The run from Toledo to South Bend was marked by many hardships and the travelers were cheered when they reached the Oliver hotel, the resting place for the night.

Strike Again Declared Off.

Cleveland, July 12.—The strike here at the yards of the American Shipbuilding company has again been declared off and the plant resumed work with a full complement of men. The officials of the company would not recede from their declaration to employ whom they pleased and the men after having been out about ten days presented themselves at the yards and were re-employed without favor.

RATHER BE A HOG THAN MAN

Dr. Evans Persuaded by Amount of Money Spent on Swine Diseases.

"If I were to be born again and my wishes were consulted I believe I'd rather be a hog," said Health Commissioner Dr. William A. Evans of Chicago the other day upon his return from a two weeks' trip through the eastern cities, where he made a careful study of the methods in vogue in the health departments, says a Chicago special to the New York Times. Special attention was given to the federal department in Washington, where, Dr. Evans said, hundreds of bacteriologists labor daily to find means of preventing disease in hogs.

"The diseases of human beings are a secondary consideration," said Dr. Evans. "The government spends more on the bacteriology of hogs in one year than it does on the bacteriology of man in twenty-five years. It is true they are doing something for men. They have a Marine hospital, but as I wandered around and looked at the immense buildings devoted to the study of seeds and grasses and other foods I decided man was a minor being after all and that I'd rather be a hog." Dr. Evans thinks the fault lies with the voters themselves. He said the farmers are persistent in their demands upon members of congress that something be done for hogs and cattle, and as a result experts prepare annually large volumes which instruct the farmer how to prevent and cure disease among his stock.

"I agree with the farmers in their demands," said Dr. Evans. "But I also think the fathers should rise up and demand that at least an equal amount of work be done to assist them in preventing and curing disease in their families."

He considers Chicago far behind the eastern cities in health work. This was to be expected, since Chicago still was in the experimental stage. He brought with him pamphlets and reports which will be sent to the heads of sixty bureaus.

THE BALEFUL STRAWBERRY.

Hygienists who delight in raising alarms against popular foods are now tilting against strawberries, says a London special cable dispatch to the New York Sun. These are accused of having a bad effect upon the tempers of their eaters, who, it is alleged, become sulky and irritable after eating them.

A hygienist is quoted as saying that ladies are particularly susceptible in this respect. Some of them will eat a pound or more of strawberries at a time and then become so morose that people are glad to avoid them.

The fact is, they are physically ill without knowing it. They are suffering from the strawberry disease, the symptoms of which are slight dizziness, a desire to be alone and intolerance of being questioned.

The strawberries which have the worst effect are the large marshy ones. The small kinds, with seeds on the surface, are usually harmless. The trouble is ascribed to the strawberry acids, which cream does not mollify. Indeed, the fruit is more wholesome without cream or sugar, and nobody should eat more than a dozen at a time.

Eustace Miles, the tennis player, as a vegetarian dietist confirms the danger to some persons from strawberries. He says they contain three acids, phosphoric, sulphuric and silicic. He believes that the last named causes the trouble. In addition to irritability, sufferers have strawberry rash and strawberry headache.

Soak ink stains in sour milk, and should a stain still remain rinse in a weak solution of chloride of lime.

Tracing the Bullet.

If a bullet to be fired by a marksman is coated with a fine paste of gunpowder and gum, says the Dundee Advertiser, and then with a thin covering of some friction powder, the latter, as the bullet passes out of the gun barrel, will ignite, and in turn set fire to the gunpowder paste. The bullet will then leave a long stream of smoke behind it, indicating the exact course it has taken and enabling the marksman, if necessary, to correct his aim for his next shot.
